BURLINGTON STORES AND THE LEUKEMIA & LYMPHOMA SOCIETY RAISE MORE THAN $25 MILLION FOR BLOOD CANCER RESEARCH

Burlington's 2015 campaign raised more than $3million for life-saving research

White Plains, NY (December 17, 2015) – Burlington Stores and The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's (LLS) Light The Night® campaign were pleased to partner for the 14th consecutive year this past fall, to shine a light on the urgent need for funding to help support blood cancer research and advance new treatments for cures. From September 9 through December 2, all Burlington Stores nationwide encouraged customers to donate to the cause at check-out through its 12-week in-store promotion. The campaign raised more than $3 million which brought Burlington's grand total collection since the partnership's inception to well over $25 million.

"We are so grateful for our continued partnership with Burlington Stores," said Louis J. DeGennaro, PhD, LLS president and chief executive officer. "Their dedication and commitment to LLS and our mission over the years is helping us in our work to fund research to advance cures for patients with blood cancers."

"At Burlington Stores, we are committed to improving the communities we live and work in and to supporting our neighbors in need. Our long-standing partnership with LLS and its Light the Night campaign is one of our premiere philanthropic initiatives and I am so proud of and appreciative to our thousands of associates and millions of customers all across the country that have helped to save lives, funding blood cancer research and treatments," said Tom Kingsbury, Chairman and CEO, Burlington Stores.

LLS exists to find cures and ensure access to treatments for blood cancer patients. LLS is a voice for all blood cancer patients as LLS works to ensure access to treatments for all blood cancer patients. Thanks to research and access to better treatments, survival rates have quadrupled since 1960, and these would not be possible without the generosity of partners such as Burlington and their customers and associates.
